Different task, motivational and combinational feedbacks, and a comparison of the role of different augmented feedbacks in performance & self-perception

Salma Hashemian\textsuperscript{1}, Hamed Yaghoubi\textsuperscript{2}, Shabeshan Rengasamy\textsuperscript{3}, Shahedi Valiolah\textsuperscript{4}, Imanipour Vahid\textsuperscript{5} and Mahdi. Armandnia\textsuperscript{6}

\textsuperscript{1}Department of Physical Education and Sport Sciences, Marvdasht Branch, Islamic Azad University, Marvdasht, Iran
\textsuperscript{2}Department of Education, Fars province, Shiraz branch, region one, Shiraz, Iran
\textsuperscript{3}Department of math and science, Faculty of education, University of Malaya, Malaysia
\textsuperscript{4}Department of Physical Education and Sport Sciences, Parand branch, Islamic Azad University, New City of Parand, Iran
\textsuperscript{5}Faculty of Arts, Islamic Azad University, Iran

\textbf{ABSTRACT}