Dear Dr Javar:

RE: MANUSCRIPT TITLED “CHARACTERIZATION OF DICLOFENAC LIPOSOMES FORMULATED WITH PALM OIL FRACTIONS”

Your manuscript sent to TJPR has been duly reviewed and recommended for publication subject to your satisfactorily attending to the issues raised by the reviewers.

However, before details are forwarded to enable you revise your manuscript accordingly, please pay the publication charge of US$150 which you earlier committed yourself to do if your manuscript is accepted for publication. Details of the various modes of payment of this charge are shown on the second page of this letter. If you choose to use the bank payment option, ensure that you pay separately your local bank charges (including your bank’s own intermediary bank charges) to avoid any shortfall in the amount received by us. Note that we will not waive any shortfall however small it is. Whichever payment mode you use, please send the scanned transaction receipt to editor@tjpr.org as an email attachment. Without actual receipt of this payment, we cannot convey the review comments, issue you a final acceptance letter and proceed to actual publication of the paper.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Professor AO Okhamafe
Editor-in-Chief
