Dear Dr. KHAI MENG CHANG,

Congratulations! The abstract on which you are First Author, # 2146280, Proteomic Analysis of Saliva From Diabetic Patients in Different Stages of Diabetic Retinopathy, has been accepted for presentation at the 2015 ARVO Annual Meeting, Powerful Connections: Vision Research and Online Networking, May 3-7, 2015, in Denver, Colorado.

Abstract Review Notifications are being sent this year to allow additional time for First Authors to plan their attendance and apply for visas. You will receive an Abstract Scheduling Notification on Wednesday, February 18, to advise you of your abstract’s presentation format (paper or poster) and its scheduled session, presentation day and time.

Accepted abstracts will be scheduled for presentation on any one day of the 2015 ARVO Annual Meeting, i.e. Sunday, May 3, through Thursday, May 7.

SCHEDULING PREFERENCES CANNOT BE ACCOMMODATED; DO NOT SUBMIT A SCHEDULING REQUEST.

Changes to scheduled presentation dates and times cannot be accommodated under any circumstances, so mark your calendar now and plan your schedule and travel accordingly. If necessary, you can adjust your schedule and travel plans based on your assigned presentation day/time after you have received your Abstract Scheduling Notification on February 18.

The Annual Meeting’s week-at-a-glance is currently available for your reference: http://www.arvo.org/Annual_Meeting/Program

Key Dates
Fri, Jan. 30 - Abstract withdrawal deadline (before publication)
Wed, Feb. 18 - Abstract Scheduling Notifications will be sent to First Authors
Thu, Feb. 19 - Travel Grant Notifications will be sent to First Authors