Dear Author,

The corrected manuscript on "Issues and Challenges of Development in Highland and Steep Slope Areas: The Case of Klang Valley" has been reviewed by the reviewers. The comments are as follow:

1. Consider revising the title to better reflect the following sentence in last paragraph of Section 1 (as well as the main conclusion).
"Therefore, this paper discusses challenges in highland development as well as possible mechanisms to help overcome them. The study also explores the significant relationships between the challenges and control mechanisms."

2. The total length of the paper is still too long (same number of pages as previous version), so consider possible reduction.

3. Abstract should also clearly state how the data were obtained and information on respondents.

4. References are needed for the statement "There is a gap in the scientific literature on challenges in highland development regarding measures to overcome these challenges".

5. Before the last section of conclusions, be good to have discussions related to literature (other related past studies).

6. Conclusions should be expanded to cover more key findings, based on specific research objectives or questions.

7. Proof reading is needed.

Please address the highlighted issues and kindly send us back the corrected version of manuscript.

Thanks.
