Transforming Universiti Malaya into a Sustainable Living Campus via UM Living Labs Initiative
Sumiani Yusoff, Aireen Zuriani Ahmad, Azizi Abu Bakar and Mohd Fadhli Rahmat Fakri
Against the backdrop of a rapidly challenging economic, environment, and societal development age, sustainability has emerged as one of the most promising and practical solutions to address these challenges. Universities play a critical role as a nucleus of knowledge translation into real and practical action and solutions. Hence, UM Living Lab Volume III with the theme ‘Unlocking Urban Sustainability Solutions: Sustainable Campus Reimagined’ recounts the importance of coupling sustainability research with real actions that recognizes both tangible and intangible contributions in addressing modern day adversities. Living lab, in UM context, fosters applied research and education by using the campus to test real-time sustainability solutions, offering opportunities to UM stakeholder to translate research into action and enabling the university’s fabric to achieve greater engagement through practical, hands-on, and a more comprehensive educational experiences. All these contributions are set of exemplary pledge of real actions in realizing the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
