Abstract:
This study focuses on the following questions: What is the proportional relationship between family’s treatment of students and academic achievement? What is the impact of independent family changes on student’s achievement? What are the suggestions to reduce the negative family effects on students’ achievement? This study has adopted descriptive approach when dealing with the concepts of a family and its functions, academic achievement and its significance and the factors affecting it. The study is based on family theories. It also adopts and deals with previous studies that are concerned with family treatment and academic achievement. The study shows that the family is influential on students’ lives since it encourages and pushes them towards educational progress.
