Health & Living: Dr. Arif Anwar (Resident Geneticist), Prof Lau Yee Ling and Prof Fong Mun Yik (University of Malaya)

Malaria has placed the strongest known selective pressure on the human genome since the origination of agriculture within the past 10,000 years. Dr. Arif and Professors Lau and Fong discuss the impact of this as well as how genetics informs the search for a vaccine.