The Knee

Dear Professor Zaman,

I am pleased to tell you that your above paper has been found to be acceptable for publication in The Knee and will be published as soon as the editorial process allows.

The reviewers recommended that your paper was checked for English by a language editor, and so I arranged for your paper to undergo professional language editing during which a number of linguistic and grammatical changes have been made. The edited manuscript detailing the changes made is available in EES by clicking on the "view submission" link after you have logged in and the edited version will be used to create the typeset proof of your paper.

The typeset proof of your paper will be sent to you in the near future by the Elsevier production team and at this point you will have a chance to make any final minor corrections before your paper is published. Please note that the printed version of your work is in grayscale so please ensure any illustrations, graphs and tables can be interpreted in this format unless you have requested a colour print version.
