We have sent a message to the journal to accept it. I will appear in the Special issue on innovation that I think is scheduled for March.

Congratulations!

Rita

Dear Dr. Then:

I am pleased to report that your manuscript "Gamification in rehabilitation of metacarpal fracture using cost effective end user device: A randomized controlled trial" is almost ready to be accepted. Could you please address these final 2 changes (below) and re upload a revised manuscript? If you have trouble uploading the final revisions please just send me the final version of the manuscript and I will work with the journal to include it in our special issue on innovation and technology.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
Best Regards,
Rita Patterson

Methods
The speed of playing was not possible to quantify as it was individual, depending on level and the progress from 1 level to the next, rotated through various movement required at own individual speed. Should “rotated through various movement required at own individual speed” just be deleted?

Fomentation is still mentioned on page 17 and should be changed to hot pack or heat therapy.
