Dear DrChong,

Thank you for submitting the manuscript/revised manuscript, "The experimental study on the wind turbine's guide-vanes and diffuser of an exhaust air energy recovery system integrated with the cooling tower" to Energy Conversion and Management for publication. I apologize for the lengthy review period. I am pleased to inform you that the reviews are complete and that the paper is accepted for publication in Energy Conversion and Management.

The Production Unit of Elsevier Science will send you proofs of the paper, which should be corrected and returned promptly. A copyright agreement form for you to complete will be enclosed with the proofs.

I would like to inform you that, if your institution is a subscriber to Energy Conversion and Management, you may have full text access to the journal online at no additional cost to the print subscription through ScienceDirect Web Editions (<http://www.sciencedirect.com/web-editions>). Such access is limited to the last twelve months. For information on the status of accepted papers, after Elsevier has sent you proofs of the paper, please consult our Online Article Status Information System (OASIS) on the Internet at <http://www.elsevier.com/locate/authors/>.

Thank you for this contribution to Energy Conversion and Management. I hope your present research is progressing well, and I look forward to reading future contributions to Energy Conversion and Management from you and your colleagues. I would appreciate your recommendation to your other colleagues that they consider submitting their manuscripts to Energy Conversion and Management for review and publication.

When your paper is published on ScienceDirect, you want to make sure it gets the attention it deserves. To help you get your message across, Elsevier has developed a new, free service called AudioSlides: brief, webcast-style presentations that are shown (publicly available) next to your published article. This format gives you the opportunity to explain your research in your own words and attract interest. You will receive an invitation email to create an AudioSlides presentation shortly. For more information and examples, please visit <http://www.elsevier.com/audioslides>.

Sincerely yours,

Professor Moh'd A. Al-Nimr
