Dear Dr. Mohd Shahril Nizam Shaharom,

It is my pleasure to inform you that your paper entitled as "DESIGNING STRUCTURED DISCUSSION FORUM FOR ADULT LEARNERS THROUGH E-COLLABORATIVE ENVIRONMENT" has been accepted for publication in International e-Journal of Advances in Education (IJAEDU) based upon the your peer's positive review which can be found below and also some of them is attached to this email, but you also have to do some corrections and changes according your peer review.

To complete the publication process please,

1. Make the necessary corrections/changes recommended on your peer review.
2. Check your paper again according to English grammar.
3. Check your paper for the punctuation and spelling mistakes

4. Make all changes on the version that I sent you by this email, which is formatted according to the journal template. (Do not use any other version of your paper) Please note that this will be the final – camera ready- version of your paper, so check it generally if there is anything you want to correct, add or remove; then send the final version to me as a word doc. without making any change on its template until (15 July 2016)

5. Your paper will be published in the April issue of International e-Journal of Advances in Education (IJAEDU) (Vol. 2, Num. 5, 2016)

Dr. Shaharuddin Md. Salleh Review :

I have read the manuscript. It was acceptable but could be improved by:

1. Replace the old reference to the latest like Dib (1988), Knowles (1975), Lieb (1991). Better reference taken 7-8 years back.
2. There are several spelling errors.
3. The findings are described comprehensively for example: why there were no responses in the forum? What causes them to not get involved? Is it because they are not proficient in IT? Or they do not have the facilities to communicate in the forum?

Kind Regards,

Mr. Mahmoud Fardedavaji,
Assistant Editor of International e-Journal of Advances in Education (IJAEDU)
